Through Education, the Impossible Becomes Possible!

We live in a dynamic world, and the world is changing so fast that with a blink of an eye, we have landed a man on the moon, the Berlin wall is no more, and our so called enemy, USSR, is no longer our number one enemy today. But it seems that nothing is moving faster than our own profession. It was only yesterday that dental implants had over 90% failure rate and now it has over 90% success rate. Yesterday, we only concerned ourselves with restoring teeth and function, and now we are moving more to cosmetic dentistry and treating the total health and wellness of our patients. We also live in a computer age, where knowledge and technology change at break neck speed. The only way that we, as practitioners, can keep up with the time is by taking regular continuing education courses. In fact, our State Board of Dentistry mandates it. Yes, we are in a dynamic profession, and whether you as a practitioner like it or not, you either have to change with the time, or fall by the wayside.

As this year's CE Chair, I didn't want to re-invent the wheel. I contacted other states that had very successful CE programs and asked for recommendations. Based on their input, I am proud to say that I was able to put together a fabulous line up of courses for 2006-2007. But you know, going to our CE courses is not just about learning, it is about the total experience! You are amongst friends, general dentists, who have same issues, problems, and aspirations. The friendship and camaraderie gained here is second to none. And you just might happen to come across one of our lecturers who may open up a whole new world for you. Our CE experience can be life changing for you and for your patients.

I must share with you a true story of one of our AGD member who took one of our participation courses. He shared with me that prior to taking this course, he was burned out, and was ready to sell his practice. He was in his 40's, much too young to retire, but he just had it with dentistry. This one course changed his life, and he began to take other courses related to what he just learned. He sold his practice, and built a larger and better office. He has limited his practice to treating TMD, and he could not be more successful and happier today. There are many examples where general dentists started to do procedures that they enjoyed like cosmetic dentistry, dental implants, etc. and this helped to turn them around for the better. Truly, through education, the impossible can become possible.

John DiPonziano, DDS, MAGD

Dr. Diponziano has been performing the surgical placement and prosthetic restoration of dental implants since the mid-eighties. A 1983 graduate of Temple University School of Dentistry, he also completed a three-year didactic and participatory program in Implantology at the University of Pennsylvania in 1989. Prior to attending dental school, Dr. DiPonziano was a full-time dental Technician and earned CDT (Certified Dental Technician) status, which he still maintains today. He is past President of the New Jersey Academy of General Dentistry. He is in private general practice in Columbus, NJ, and also provides surgical placement and implant case treatment planning on referral from other practitioners.

Course Description:

This course consists of a morning lecture and an afternoon participation session. Indications for the various prosthetic and implant components will be clearly explained and illustrated in the morning presentation. Participants will then have the opportunity to assemble the actual components later in the day. There will also be a review of radiographic and surgical stent design, which will illustrate the proper pre-surgical planning necessary for a successful prosthetic result. In addition, a portion of the lecture will be devoted to the NobelBiocare “Teeth-in-an-Hour” concept. The indications and techniques for the surgical and prosthetic elements of this modality using CT scan and model-based bone mapping protocol will be discussed. Troubleshooting of common implant prosthetic problems will be discussed. Course participants are asked to email Dr. DiPonziano before the course for any trouble shooting questions they would like answered at the course. His email is Jdiponz@hotmail.com.

Comments from past attendees:

- “Best implant course that was geared for the restorative general dentist”
- “Excellent course—nice to have a course on the ‘pieces’”

Morning Session: Your Dental Records are your Best Defense in Malpractice Lawsuit

Dental records have proven to be the most powerful tool in helping dentists defend themselves during malpractice lawsuits. By attending this course, dentists and their professional staff will learn the NJ Board of Dentistry requirements in clinical documentation to meet accepted standards of dental care for record keeping. Participants will have the opportunity to review actual malpractice cases heard in court, analyzing the reasons why these lawsuits were won or lost. Participants should leave this course understanding how to avoid malpractice lawsuits and how to defend themselves if sued. This course is appropriate for dentists, dental hygienists, and dental assistants.

Mitchell Gardiner, DMD, FAGD

Mitchell Gardiner, DMD, FAGD, graduated from the New Jersey Dental School in 1977. After serving 3 years as a dental officer in the US Navy, he now practices general dentistry in a multi-specialty dental practice in Fair Haven, NJ. For the past 15 years, Dr. Gardiner has reviewed dental malpractice lawsuits on behalf of dentists and patients as an expert witness, often times testifying in court. His experience in the area of dental malpractice is extensive and he has lectured to dental organizations throughout the United States on various areas of dental malpractice.

Afternoon Session: Issues Involved in Practice Transitions

This course will discuss the various issues of bringing an associate, forming a partnership, LLC, corporation, or selling a practice. Numbers of issues will be discussed such as protection against malpractice by an associate; how to structure an associate contract to protect against associate liability; issues to be addressed in shareholder/LLC agreements to help protect each shareholder/member from liability for the acts of other shareholders/members; why for liability issues, dentists should never form a "partnership"; liability issues involved in purchasing a practice; and liability issues in hiring a specialist.

“Unraveling the Mystery of Facial Beauty and its Biologic Significance”

Non-Surgical Treatment by General Dentists to Enhance Facial Beauty, TMJ and Physiologic Health!

Presentation by

Yosh Jefferson, DMD, MAGD, FACD, FICD, FADI, IBO

Dr. Jefferson is a 1978 graduate of UMDNJ. He is past editor of the International Journal of Orthodontics and is past president of IAO. He has been awarded many honors including Fellowships in the American College of Dentists, International College of Dentists, and Academy of Dentistry International. He also received his Master in Academy of General Dentistry. Dr. Jefferson, a general dentist, is an IAO Board Diplomate and Senior Instructor. He has been published and has lectured nationally and internationally. To learn more about Dr. Jefferson and his philosophy, log onto www.facialbeauty.org.

Course Description

Dr. Yosh Jefferson has established a universal standard for facial beauty that applies to every individual regardless of race, age or sex. By treating patients to his universal standard often without surgery, practitioners not only beautify faces, but also enhanced TMJ health, emotional and physiological health, upper airway respiration (treatment of sleep apnea), and multitude of other benefits. This course touches on orthodontics and TMD, but it is relevant to all dentists and their staff. At the end of his presentation, you will learn to: 1. Define and understand facial beauty, 2. Learn 5-minute cephalometric analysis, 3. Learn simplified diagnosis and treatment of TMD, 4. Learn non-surgical techniques to treat Skeletal II's, III's, short faces, long faces, and narrow faces, 5. Learn how to alleviate medical problems such as sleep apnea, migraine headaches, hearing problems, ringing in the ear, head-neck-shoulder problems, ADD, learning disability, etc., 6. Marketing your practice. Must bring a ruler and a compass with 8" plus radius.

Comments from past attendees:

- “This was one of the best courses that I have ever taken. Not only should all dentists attend this lecture, it should be taught in all dental schools. I personally would attend any lectures given by Dr. Jefferson.”
- “Great presentation. Dr. Jefferson is a dynamic speaker with up to date information that everyone can use in their office. Highly educational and motivational. I would recommend this for everyone. I got much more than I expected.”

Edward J. Swift, Jr., DMD, MS

Dr. Swift received his DMD degree from the Medical University of South Carolina and a master's degree in Operative Dentistry from the University of Iowa. He practiced general dentistry for several years, and has taught at the University of Mississippi and the University of Iowa. He is currently Professor and Chair of the Department of Operative Dentistry at the University of North Carolina School of Dentistry, Chapel Hill, NC. Dr. Swift is actively involved in dental materials research, particularly in the area of dentin bonding and other aspects of adhesive and esthetic dentistry. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Esthetic Dentistry and the Academy of Dental Materials, and a member of the Dentsply Corporate Education Advisory Board. Dr. Swift is the associate editor for the Journal of Esthetic and Restorative Dentistry. He has published over 185 journal articles, and has been recognized as a "Leader in Continuing Education" by Dentistry Today.

Course Description:

The development of new materials has proceeded so rapidly that many clinicians are left confused by the wealth of new products that are available in many areas. This course will present the latest information available on current dentin/enamel adhesives, composite resins, and light-curing technology. It also will cover briefly other important areas of dental materials: cements and impressions. Proper use of these materials is important to the success of our routine indirect restorations and esthetic cases. Although bleaching has become commonplace over the last 15 years, new information and products are constantly available as patient demand continues to increase. Information on all topics will be based on scientific evidence, but the clinical use of all materials will be emphasized.

Upon completion of this course, the participant will understand:

- How dentin bonding systems work.
- The four current strategies for bonding to tooth structure, including the self-etch systems.
- The use of resin-based materials for desensitization.
- The various types of composite resin restorative materials that are available.
- The benefits of contemporary nanofill and microhybrid composite materials.
- Current concepts of visible light-curing.
- The various types of cements for indirect restorations, and when they should be used.
- A variety of materials for achieving excellent crown and bridge impressions.
- The various options for tooth whitening, including their effects, side effects, advantages, and disadvantages.

NJAGD course cancellation policy:

You will receive full refund if we are notified 30 days prior to the course date. Refund will be in the form of credits towards future NJAGD courses. For documentation purposes, all cancellations must be made in writing, fax or email. Verbal or telephone cancellation is not acceptable. Cancellation policies may differ depending on certain courses or situations, and if noted differently in the course ads or if course is run by a third party other than NJAGD, they will take precedent over this general cancellation policy.

Any questions about the courses or if you wish to cancel, contact Ms. Ricky Dibofsky at 1-800-GO-NJAGD (1-800-466-5243), fax: 732-821-1082.
